

Around the Square

A bright spot is on the horizon for taxpayers this year. The county's general rate, which applies to all property, will be down approximately 12 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation—and assessments on homes will not be up.

The county will not establish its final tax rate, however, until next August after the total assessment roll is announced by Assessor John Quinn.

In the meantime, officers of at least one taxpayers' group will be sending letters to members stating that their "spirited pleas" during county budget hearings "forced the hand of the Board of Supervisors" and resulted in the tax rate cut.

We take issue with the statement because the cut was in prospect long before these groups got their finger in the publicity pie.

The county saved about $4,500,000 under Proposition 4, the constitutional amendment through which the State took over aged and blind aid. In addition, the county's capital projects were reduced from $21,000,000 in 1948-49 to $14,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Eating up much of this apparent saving, however, were greatly increased costs of the courts and indigent aid.

The city's budget and tax rate will come in August. The city fathers, having a general tax limitation, wait until the assessment total for Sierra Madre is out and then work backwards to find out how much they can spend.

Such a procedure isn't exactly illegal, but Supervisor William Smith threatened a taxpayers suit against the county last year when the Board of Supervisors did it. The other four supervisors hacked left and right at the already established budget to eliminate items that had previously been considered "absolutely necessary." The impending tax rate scared the political daylight out of them.

The city's "own" the old fire engine itself, was on fire while travelling along Sturtevant drive last week. But it's back in service again.

What was supposed to have been a good advertising gag kicked back last week.

The mysterious word was spread around, "Call Michigan 3141."

Instead of a "Good afternoon, this is the Subgum Co."

There was this greeting: "Wouldn't you rather drink Four Roses?" And it wasn't a recording.

By the end of the day the two girls in the office of the Frankfort Distillers Corp. were nearly in tears.

"Everyone keeps calling up for the gag," one of them said. "Just because some dumb salesman thought it up, we can't get our work done—and we get the screwiest answers."

Sierra Madre Hardware's W. S. Hull just turned 80 years, and to honor him, his co-workers presented him with a gold Mason's pin.

The cops are trying hard to start a zoo. They got a call from Louisa Shippey of 341 Auburn avenue who found a big turtle on the loose. The police suggested she keep it awhile to see if there are any claimants. The same goes for Bob Orme of Lizzy's Trail Inn who found a domesticated canary. If no one claims them, the police will probably have to see about boarding the pets.

Speaking of the coppers, there's nothing hard-hearted about our local "finest." For the second time they

Board Will Equalize Tax Assessments Next July 5 to 18

Annual board of equalization sessions will be held July 5 through July 18, it was announced this week by Supervisor William A. Smith.

Civic organizations and churches were told to file applications for assessment reductions if they can qualify under the State Welfare Act.

Individual taxpayers may also file petitions if they feel that their property assessments are not equalized with those of their neighbors.

Assessments for 1949-50 may be obtained now from the assessor's office at the Los Angeles Hall of Justice. Equalization hearings will be conducted at the Hall of Records.

Mobile Unit Blood Bank Visits City

Last Wednesday's visit of the Mobile unit of the American Red Cross Blood Bank netted the bank 123 pints of blood. Mrs. Janet Wood, chairman, announced this week.

Of the 191 appointments made, Mrs. Wood reports that 39 were canceled, and 29 were rejected for reasons of health.

Mrs. Wood expressed thanks to her vice chairman, Mrs. John E. Conzelmann, and to the canteen chairman, Mrs. John Woehler. She also expresses appreciation for all the volunteers who so ably assisted in the work of the drive; to the woman's club for donating the use of their building; and to the two city employees who helped carry equipment.

While admitting disappointment about the 39 persons who canceled their appointments, Mrs. Wood said that the blood bank of Los Angeles was pleased with the community's showing.

In thanking the donors, she announced that each one will receive individual certificates through the mail expressing the gratitude of the American Red Cross and indicating the donor's "RH factor" and blood type designation.

Dottie Burke Joins NEWS

Dottie (Dewey) Burke has joined the staff of the Sierra Madre NEWS as Advertising Manager, Publisher Peter Ward announced this week.

A resident of Sierra Madre for 12 years, Mrs. Burke has been working on newspapers for more than 10 years of that time. She worked for seven years on the Monrovia News-Post.

It was during her stay with the News-Post that Mrs. Burke won newspaper advertising awards for five consecutive years beginning in 1944. These presentations were made each year at the annual convention of the California Newspaper Advertising Managers' Association.

A division of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, the CNAMA bases its awards on selling adaptability of the advertising; the originality of the theme; layout and typography; use of illustrations; and neatness of presentation. Mrs. Burke won her recog-

Reassigned to Belvedere Court

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the State Supreme Court this week assigned City Judge John C. Mead to sit as Justice of the peace of Belvedere Township from August 1 until August 31.

Judge Mead recently held that justice bench for several months during the absence of Judge Myer B. Marion who has been serving temporarily in the Los Angeles Municipal Court. Judge Mead is now helping out Arcadia's City Judge David T. Sweet while Sweet is on vacation.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

A chamber of Commerce board of directors and membership meeting has been called for noon today. Everyone is invited to attend this luncheon-meeting which will be held at the Hotel Sierra Madre at 12:15.

K. M. Bush Retires as Choir Head

After six years as director of the Congregational Church Choir, Kenneth (Joe) Bush will retire Sunday (June 26).

KENNETH M. BUSH

A farewell choir family picnic is planned for this last meeting until fall, from 3:30 p. m. on, Brookside Park.

Although Mr. Bush had no previous directing experience prior to joining the Sierra Madre Choir, his spirited leadership has greatly increased membership in the past six years.

He and his wife, Charlotte, of 633 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, are considering joining the Howard Swan Choir at the Pasadena Presbyterian church.

Mr. Bush, an Occidental graduate, studied piano and organ and accompanied the Occidental Glee club. He was also president and special events manager of the First Congregational choir of Los Angeles, where he helped organize the Bach and Modern Music Festivals.

Last week Mr. Bush marked his 20th year as sales supervisor with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Mr. and Mrs. Bush have three children, Smoky, Dottie and Candy.

Canyon Pool Is A Hazard . . It Must Be Closed

Limitations of the recreational facilities in Sierra Madre have long been recognized, but little has been done on a long range program.

Now, however, the operation of the Canyon Pool this year has forced the issue.

THE CANYON POOL IS A HAZARD, the magnitude of which cannot be overemphasized. Its continued operation is not fair to parents or their children or the hundreds of residents of the canyon area.

THE CANYON POOL MUST GO. City officials, the police, service groups, civic organizations and every citizen who has seen the pool "in action" know this and recommend this. They have called for its closing in the past.

It is open this year only because of what was considered an obligation to the children of Sierra Madre.

The obligation exists, but its satisfaction does not come from continued operation of this hazard.

The people of Sierra Madre can take things into their own hands to provide, at what would be a reasonable cost, the adequate tools for eliminating the Canyon Pool and its abominable conditions once and for all.

Sierra Madre needs a new swimming pool. And with public support it will get one.

Its cost, estimated at from $35,000 to $45,000, would place no insurmountable burden upon Sierra Madre through a bond issue. It could be maintained through the formation of a recreation district which would have a definite taxing limitation.

The inadequacy of the Canyon Pool—and the actual danger that it presents—is a challenge to the 7200 residents of Sierra Madre.

Every resident of this city and every civic organization should give all possible backing to a straightforward program that will eliminate this antiquated pool and at the same time provide a new and more centrally located swimming pool.

Mrs. Fitch Lectures to Kiwanis Club

Mrs. George Fitch, East Asia correspondent for several news magazines, Tuesday denounced this nation's current neglect of China as "the biggest mistake the United States government has ever made."

Speaking before the Sierra Madre Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon, Mrs. Fitch opined that if the crime of the century is Russian aggression, the tragedy of the century is American neglect of China.

She described the most important question of the near future as being "whether the United States will 'scuttle and run' from the islands we occupy in East Asia."

"If we do," she predicted, "we will one day be forced to fight again from island to island across the broad Pacific as we did before."

In urging the public not to condemn China in her present condition of apparent corruption and inefficiency, she likened China to the United States during the carpet-bagger days following the Civil War.

Concerning our ECA aid to Korea, Mrs. Fitch said that "we are doing a good job in helping Korea to help itself. The future hope of Korea, however, rests in the United States."

Mrs. Fitch has spent 30 years in China and two years in Korea. Her husband is an international Y.M.C.A. secretary, world traveler and lecturer. She returned home to Pasadena from Korea June 16.

10,000 Attend Rally At Mater Dolorosa

More than 10,000 persons attended a gigantic ham dinner presented by the Mater Dolorosa Monastery of the Passionist Fathers last Sunday.

Representatives of nearly every parish of Southern California attended the all-day affair. Some persons even traveled as far as Sacramento, Santa Maria, Oxnard and Bakersfield to be present at this, the annual retreat rally, Father Isadore O'Reilly, retreat director, said.

City Gives Arcadia Emergency Water

In an emergency effort to aid the city of Arcadia in its acute water shortage Sierra Madre is furnishing the northern section of that city with water, William Tave, director of public works, announced yesterday.

"We are servicing the section of Arcadia north of Orange Grove avenue," he said. "This will not interfere with the normal water usage in Sierra Madre, however, since what we give Arcadia is merely surplus water and will not affect our own water levels."

Day Camp Plans Near Completion

Plans are now being completed for Sierra Madre's large-scale youth Day Camp, scheduled to run for three weeks from July 18 through August 5.

Offering carefully-organized outdoor play and instruction in craft work and dramatics, the program will be in session five days a week, Monday through Friday, and is open free to all elementary school children who have finished the first grade.

Children will be divided into groups according to age, and each classification will have a definite project to work toward during the three weeks. To provide a well-balanced program, children will frequently change groups through a rotation system. Each Friday evening during the program will be "campfire night."

Volleyball, softball, ping pong, as well as the more quiet games will be offered during the recreation program's busy day from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. At least one and possibly two days of carefully supervised swimming each week is now being planned by Recreation Director Sam McElfresh, Superintendent Charles Skutt, and their committee.

At present, only a slight charge is anticipated for craft materials and swimming facilities.

Interesting and highly-educational motion pictures and speakers are being scheduled by the program committee. The Day Camp is being made available through the co-operation of the Sierra Madre Recreation Commission and the Sierra Madre City School.

Children are encouraged to bring ideas for projects and play and to thereby share in the program which will be as individualized as possible.

Operate Swim Pool Bus To Help Avoid Traffic Dangers

As a means of helping avoid traffic congestion on the confined streets of the canyon area, a "school bus" service began operations this week to carry children to the Canyon Pool.

First run was made at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday.

With the opening of the bus service, it was hoped that parents would avoid driving into the canyon with children headed for the pool. (A map indicating stops throughout Sierra Madre will be found on page 3.)

CRAFT CLASSES WELL-ATTENDED; PLAY CONTINUES

Craft classes are enjoying capacity attendance Monday through Friday, Sam McElfresh, recreation director, reported this week.

Scheduled, at present, to continue through the remainder of June only, the classes are held from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning and from 1 to 3 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Morse, instructing the morning class, gives capable guidance in copper, textile, woodburning, and painting work. Mrs. Hugh McCrumb specializes in teaching copper and leather handicraft in the afternoon.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 1 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. in the evening, Mark Havenhill is conducting a woodworking class in the shop of the school grounds.

As another part of this huge recreation program, Mr. McElfresh is in charge of supervised outdoor games five days a week from 9:30 to 3. All categories of the program take place on the school grounds or in the building.

Dangers of traffic to children in the pool area were emphasized by Chief of Police G. G. McMillan, and Fire Chief Jim Heasley pointed out again the need for maintaining canyon streets free of parked cars so that fire trucks may have free access.

The Pasadena City Schools bus, driven by one of the regular drivers, will make two scheduled trips to the pool and three trips returning each day except Sunday and Monday.

According to Recreation Director Sam McElfresh, the bus has been routed so that most of the children will not have to walk more than three blocks to meet the bus.

Leaving Lima street and Sierra Madre boulevard intersection promptly at 11:30 and 2:00 p. m., the bus goes north to Grandview; travels west to Sunnyside; heads south to Sierra Madre Blvd. again, where it travels east to Mountain Trail; and runs north to Sturtevant and the swimming pool.

Return trips are scheduled for 2:30, 4, and 5 p. m. Purpose

BOEDECKER NAMED CHRONICLE EDITOR

W. Roger Boedecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Boedecker, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the Pasadena City College Chronicle, official student newspaper of the school.

This appointment, which is the peak of Boedecker's journalistic activities in Pasadena, was announced during the traditional Student body board-cabinet banquet held on the PCC Memorial Courts June 13.

Boedecker has worked four semesters on the Chronicle—two as sports editor; one semester on the Soph Soap, sophomore class newspaper; and one semester as sports editor of Tab, college humor magazine.

After leaving PCC upon graduation from lower division and entering Pacific university, he became especially interested in news writing. While at Pacific, he majored in journalism and worked one semester as a sports writer on the school weekly; feature writer for its literary magazine; and sports editor of the college yearbook.

It was while studying at Pacific university that Boedecker began writing sports in earnest. This field has since become his major sphere of interest.

Unusual is the fact that in more than 25 years of the Chronicle's existence, there have been only six other sport writers named editor of the paper.

Last October, in recognition of his activities in PCC journalism, he was elected to join Beta Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Boedecker has been active in other school affairs also. He participated on various class councils, has been a member of the Associated Men Students board, and a member of the 1949 varsity track squad.

Three young ladies from the Nazarene Church are teaching this week and next at the Bible School in Puente.

The girls, Peggy Bass, Lois Burlison and Blanche Ward, are still attending school and this is their first teaching experience.

Consorsos of the Congregational Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Duke Dane, 226 Olivera Lane, 8 p.m., Tuesday (June 28). Mrs. Merritt Thompson will be co-hostess.

Highlighting the meeting will be a talk by Mrs. Frances Riglesberger, of this city, on her experiences in the South Pacific.

Nazarene Baptism

Rev. Orian Burlison of the Nazarene Church baptized Elizabeth Ann Rinker Sunday morning. The parents of two-month-old Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rinker, traveled here from Albuquerque, New Mexico, for the dedication by their old friend, Rev. Burlison.

The Rinkers were week-end guests at the Burlison home, 67 E. Highland.

FAMILY GATHERING

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hopper and son, David, spent the week end in Phoenix, Ariz., attending the first family reunion in 10 years, at the home of Mrs. Hopper's parents.

Street Naming History Recalled

If you had come into Sierra Madre from the West in the year 1886 or so, you would have ridden in a horse-drawn buggy over dirt roads through a field that is now Lamanda Park. You would then have come upon a wagon path which is now Orange Grove avenue, then Live Oak avenue.

The Sierra Madre tract lay north of this. Its street were developed much as streets were in most cities—according to the plans and wishes of real estate men. The city was first laid out in 27 plots of 40 acres each, in three tiers—Live Oak to Central (Sierra Madre boulevard), Central to Grandview, and Grandview to the mountains.

The original streets were laid out to divide these tiers of lots and to give access to each. North and south ran Baldwin avenue and Sierra Madre avenue. The original streets East and West were Live Oak, Central and Grandview.

FIRST SUBDIVISION
During the Calif. land boom of 1886 and 1887 the subdivision of the section of the city south of Grandview was carried out. The first subdivision was done by Mr. Brainard Hosmer, who put in two east and west streets with the Spanish names of Esperanza and Bonita, meaning "Hope" and "Pretty". Hermosa was laid out by John Hart, dividing his tract in two.

The four owners to the West of Hermosa disliked the deep lots of the Hosmer subdivision so they decided to have three streets making four plots. One of the owners, W. S. Andrews, favored the name Aldea because he was a descendant of the famous name. But John Hart, one of the others, wanted Spanish names. And since the other two property holders agreed with Hart, we have Mariposa, Ramona and Manzanita.

Auburn was so called, amicably, because C. E. Cook, who owned the property on the West side, had come from Auburn, Maine, and Irving White, who owned the property on the East, had come from Auburn, New York.

SISTER HONORED

W. C. Norris in 1887 put in two streets across his tract, extending from Central to Grandview West of Baldwin. To one he gave the name of "Laurel," in honor of his sister, and the other he called "Victoria," because he was a loyal Canadian. It was called Lane because of the County requirements on width.

In 1883 Professor E. T. Pierce divided his tract and called the divider "Highland." Other property holders on the same plot also divided their tracts on the same line and called their streets by four different names—Laura, Grandin, Dixie and La Belle.

Laura later gave way to Laurel throughout. Under the leadership of Captain Osgood a petition was circulated and the names of the three sections were dropped and the avenue became "Montecito" for its full length.

P. E. HELPS

The coming of the P. E. also helped in giving unity to the names of the streets. The P. E. dropped freight at certain designated corners, but with the confusion of many names for many corners, they had trouble in dropping the freight. They decided to name the streets and give them all Spanish names of fruits. One of these was the Spanish for "prunes." Residents objected to the names but they saw the reasonableness of having a single name for both ends of a street.

One of Sunnyside's two names was dropped and "Sunnyside" remained. What is now Lima avenue was called Markham, in honor of Governor Markham, north of Central, and Prospect on the south end. This change posed a big problem. The owner of the property abutting the south end of the street, being of a different political affiliation, refused to let the name of a Republican governor be posted on a sign outside his house every day in the year. The owner at the north end, a strong Republican, refused to change. But the P. E. must have carried the big stick, because the name of Lima was finally adopted for the whole length.

LOTS FORMED

In 1887, N. C. Carter laid out his vineyards into lots and Mountain Trail and Canyon avenues got their names for obvious reasons. The street to the west of the cemetery was given the name "Coburn," an old Carter family name. Michilinda was given its composite tag because it was settled first by newcomers from Michigan, Illinois and Indiana, nostalgic for their birthplace. Double Drive, now Santa Anita, was opened by Lucky Baldwin about the time Sierra Madre was started in 1882. He planted the eucalyptus trees which are still the ornament of the boulevard.

STREET RESURFACE WORK CONTINUES

Work begins this morning on resurfacing and otherwise repairing Highland avenue, east of Mountain Trail, and Montecito avenue, between Sunnyside and Lima, William Y. Taye, public works director, said yesterday.

Also scheduled for early resurfacing in the city's current campaign are Sunnyside and Lima avenues.

Plans are expected to be completed for the improvement of Baldwin avenue by the end of June. These plans, which include the construction of gutters as well as resurfacing, await state approval.

JEWISH WELFARE DRIVE

Final efforts are now being made to insure the successful completion of the United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign, now in progress, in this city and throughout the state.

Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, chairman of the San Gabriel Valley Jewish Welfare Fund, stated that last-minute plans are being put into action as the deadline, June 30, approaches. Goal of this city's drive is $25,000.

Murder! At Library

By Isabel Stradley

"The Husband," by Natalie Anderson Scott, author of "The Story of Mrs. Murphy," is a macabre murder set in Puritan Massachusetts, a couple of centuries ago. It would be a mastery of understatement to say merely that this murder is bone-chilling! I suggest you read it in broad daylight—it's psychic progression of evil is no bedtime story!

Best sellers may come and go, but most of us like to re-read over a good murder. Why is it? No one seems to know. Great poets and writers in every age have written of murder. World literature from Aeschylus to O'Neill is pregnant with the theme. Yet the actual act of murder to the normal mind is unthinkable.

Perhaps it is because murder is so fundamental and catastrophic an occurrence, that we can read about it with pleasant chills, satisfied it is only a story! Then too, the present day mystery novel is a mine of general information. We learn about the growing of orchids, about Chinese porcelain, about boat building and textiles, and the far places of the earth. All this being a sort of running accompaniment to the actual murder.

Also in a mystery novel they would have you believe that all murderers are haunted by feelings of guilt, which sooner or later leads to self-betrayal. This contents us, since we can feel the villain will pay and pay! We do not want to remember we've been told it is mere superstition that murderers suffer from remorse and are unable to sleep nights! You may not be able to sleep nights after you read "The Husband!" But will you put it down in the midst of its suspense? You will not! You won't want to miss the horrifying climax!

Among the new books are: Fiction: Ceremony of Innocence, Webster; Slender Reed, Lynde; Trembling Years, Barber; Lonesome Valley, Hornsby; Pride's Castle, Verby; Big Secret, Colby; Gentle Tyrant, Ruck; Without Magnolias, Moon; Mountains are Mine, Hinckley. Mystery Stories by Gardner, Branson, Sherry. Western stories by Lomax, Dresser, Raine.

Non-fiction: "I Wanted to Write, Roberts; Cream Hill, Gannett; Major American writers, Jones; Sixteen Self Sketches, Shaw; American Themes, Brogan; Notes Toward the Definition of Culture, Eliot; To Hell and Back, Murphy; Dictionary of Philosophy, Runes; How to Make a Speech, Moutat; How to Write a Play, Finch; Color in Sketching, Gupitill; Simon; Baseball's Greatest Teams, Meany; How to Win at Tennis, Kramer; How to Tie Files, Gregg; Fishing in Troubled Waters, Chapman; Death of a Salesman (drama), Miller; Command Decision (drama), Haines.

FIRE FLAMES

School is out, swimming is in season, the Pioneer Days parade will soon be a thing of the past, the new bank front will be a familiar scene, the race track fans will be hunting a new source of outlet, and so on.

BUT—we still have the danger of fire within our city limits if we neglect carelessness. We are particularly anxious at this season of the year and for some time to come. Most of us are aware; others must become aware. From now until the verdancy of spring arrives—we are in constant danger of a spark dropping into dry growth. Even then—there is ever plenty of undergrowth to "take off" with little encouragement.

It therefore ill behooves any of us to endanger the rest of us by permitting an accumulation of hazardous materials about the place. The removal of a fire danger may not result in immediate glory or notice. It is a glorious act done by an unsung hero. It is only thru' the fine co-operation of these many fine heroes that Sierra Madre can boast of the fine low fire loss record. Constant vigil and reminders will hold this proud record for the future. Be a hero, save the City.

After the parade had passed, it was only natural that fire fighters would think of Mayor Mill' and his ride on the city's first fire truck, "Old Snort." We can recall many of the first fire fighters of the city who were just as loyal to the fire department, but there were none that were MORE loyal.

Men of the Fire Department were mighty proud to think that "Shorty" would accept the driving of "Old Snort" in the Pioneer's Day parade. We are also very proud of the men of the department who gave time and energy to keep the fire department in the front with their comic float.

A group of fire fighters and their families enjoyed the hospitality of Ed Decker and Mrs. Decker a few Sundays ago. A picnic arranged by the wives of the fire fighters was held at their home and grounds.

Fine food and general picnic atmosphere was enjoyed by all. More will come later and will add to the one and only July Fourth picnic. Committees are now at work on this annual event and woe unto them if there is a lack of food.

Food and drink will be supplied from the Fire Department's own "Cuss Can" which is massed through the careless speaking of loose tongues and at times careless feet. Fines are collected at meetings throughout the year by Joe Grippi. Members are fined for various mistakes which can include most anything. Some make more mistakes than others.

Object of the annual picnic is to keep the boys at home over the holiday in case of fire. The past made Fourth of July a day that fire may occur at any moment. In "them thar" days," kids were permitted to pack a steel pipe with powder and pull it to the top of the hill, where at about day-break, a match would be applied. With good luck, every boy returned home except the poor kid who got his eyes blown out. Or some brave boy would display his nerve by lighting a powerful firecracker before his sweetheart and either blow off a few inches of his finger or land in the hospital with lockjaw. Or a fire would start from the careless throwing of a burning fire cracker into the rubbish of someone's back yard, resulting in a call for the fire department and, on many occasions, a house fire.

This is not a story about Sierra Madre, but a true one just the same. This has happened during the life of the writer in many towns throughout the nation. It is sincerely hoped that we have become patriotic enough to eliminate such incidents from our schedule. Let's refuse to buy the children dangerous fireworks to play with. High explosive firecrackers and fireworks in the hands of children are as outmoded as witchcraft.

Let's remember and make the holiday a day of joy. Do not buy nor sell fireworks to children, nor use them yourself within the city limits of Sierra Madre. Take the kids to a display presented by experts. They'll be a lot safer and so will everybody else. Keep the FIRES OUT.

of the bus service is to provide supervised transportation to and from the swimming pool for children who live downtown and in other places not easily accessible to the pool.

Swimming pool manager this year is Dan Rauscher, police officer and qualified athletic director and Red Cross life saver. He is assisted by Warren Peterson, recent graduate of Muir College and an able life guard.

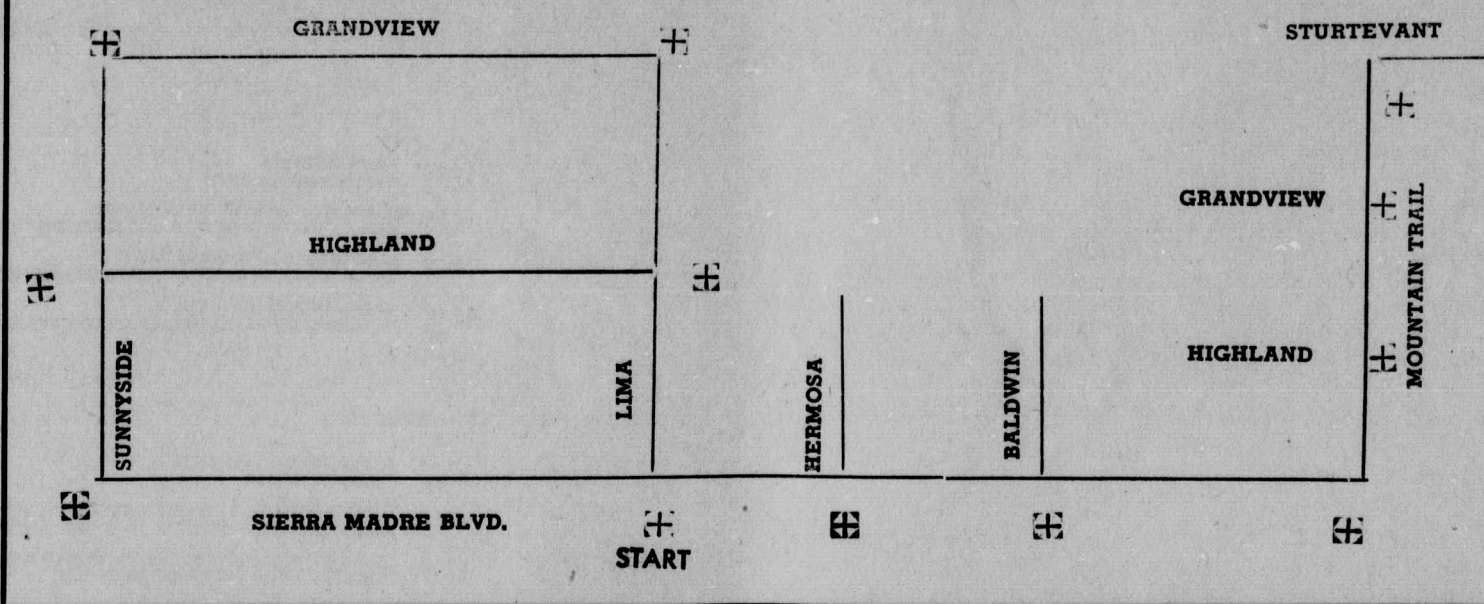

The bus will stop at street corners only. Pool tickets may be purchased on the bus. For children under 12 years of age, tickets are 10 cents; ages 13 to 18, 25 cents; and adults are charged 35 cents.

Persons using the bus service should take dry clothing with them to the pool, so that the bus will be protected from wet bathing suits. Mr. McElfresh said.

A map of the bus route to the swimming pool is on page three.

POLICE BLOTTER

Despite everything, being in a police car is an experience. You'll see many unbelievable happenings. You'll see a minister "burn rubber" at a boulevard stop sign when he discovers that the policeman is watching him from the nearby corner. You'll see in the distance a highly respected club woman back her car in to traffic and make an unlawful turn in the business district. She will object to the ticket she receives from the "cop."

"You'll see a good driver approach an intersection with the car under control and all eyes looking in all directions. And this driver will come to a complete STOP when the law requires it. You'll notice that this particular driver will avoid the carelessness of another driver who has taken the right of way from him (or her). They probably figure that the right of way is not better than a broken rib or crushed body.

You'll find drivers who will drive directly across a freshly painted red line and, when the officer calls their attention to it, claim that the others have been doing it—why shouldn't they?

The truth of the matter is this: one patrol car is trying to control the traffic at many intersections and a long thoroughfare. Also the officer may be on a call to satisfy some complainant. If you are lucky enough to cross the red marking during his absence, you may escape a citation. Many do. But if the "cop" happens to be around just at the time you disobey a law—whose hard luck is it?

Drivers should know MOST of the rules. They certainly passed the examination for drivers. It is just a case of exception, and why should anyone expect to be an exception?

Here in Sierra Madre, during the month of June, we have had this: family trouble, grass fire, magazine solicitors, petty thefts, Army absent wanted, dog bite, barking dog, message delivered, prowler, fire, false fire alarm, cans dumped in street, broken window, petty theft, traffic accident, lost children, car fire, a fight in the street, gas leak, found books, barking dogs, boys swimming in private reservoir, burglary, water leak, shooting in the open, stolen articles from a corral, damaged auto, and so on.

Some vagrant must have learned that he or she is being looked for. After sleeping for nights uninvited in a padded swing, the owners finally objected and notified the police. A grass fire, neighbor objects to a noisy party. Suspicious auto, open fire, dog bite, and a dog that bit the pants leg. Owner agreed to pay for the pants. (We are not aware as to whether it was the wool pants or the gasps).

Suspicious activities in the neighborhood, hit and run, a small skunk in the yard calls for help from the police. Chunn and Mackie to the rescue, articles of clothing taken from a car. Runaway child, stolen bike, a hitch-hiker with a gun, an annoying motorcycle. Some youthful males mistook the Pioneer Days for an opportunity to release a lot of ornerness.

Everyone in the vicinity was fortunate to escape a wild wheel from a tractor which broke away from its axle while being in use at the monastery. The large double wheel gained momentum traveling south from the monastery to Fairview avenue, where it crashed a heavy iron fence and stopped after breaking down several trees.

Girl shot by an "unloaded revolver." A tame canary was found. Call for it. A girl lost her blue jacket. A lost wallet. Owner only wants the identification cards, etc. Keep the money. A turtle strayed into a yard and was picked up by the police to be turned over to Joe Scalzo for safe keeping.

Officer Rauscher is already experiencing the ruthlessness of the night swimmers at the public pool.

A very small girl and a very small boy pressed the "right" button of a tractor and the thing started. After circling around the trees in the nearby orchard, the tractor took a jaunt to the left. By this time Councilman Kornsmeier, who was working nearby, was attracted. He was already dripping perspiration from hard labor, but much dampness was added to his brow as he headed for the tractor to prevent it from over turning a city fire plug. Good fortune and a knowledge of mechanism was with the councilman. He pressed the right button and the machine stopped just in time to save the City Water Department workers from spending Saturday afternoon digging ditch.

From this we might learn that it is unwise to allow a machine to be so openly tampered with by small or large

500 Teachers Attend Driver Education School

In line with California's recently-enacted legislation requiring compulsory driver-education courses in all high schools, the Automobile Club of Southern California last week announced that augmented teacher training programs will be held this summer at five Southland schools and colleges.

Every phase of driver-education, including the advanced behind-the-wheel training, will be covered in these 40-hour courses, it was announced.

Actively participating in some of the presentations will be Amos Neyhart, founder of the juvenile drive-training program in this country, and other noted specialists in this field.

Home from Arabia

Mrs. Gale Williams and grandson, Billy Baker, 10, of 421 Mariposa, returned last week from three months in Saudi, Arabia. There they visited Billy's father, Robert Baker, superintendent of transportation for the Arabian-American Oil Company.

Mrs. Williams and Billy flew both ways and on the return trip stopped in Syria, Cairo, Rome and Paris.

According to Mrs. Williams, the hot season is in full force and the temperature goes as high as 118 degrees—in the shade. However, air conditioning in the homes has kept things fairly cool, she said.

Mr. Baker will return to this country in December for several months' visit.

In the fall Billy will re-enter Southwestern Military Academy, San Marino.

ART INSTITUTE OFFERS EXHIBIT

Pasadena Art Institute is featuring an exhibition by members of the Women Painters of the West which opened with a reception on Friday evening, June 17. The exhibit of over 140 entries in oil, water-color, the graphic arts, and miniatures will be open to the public until August 1.

The exhibition was carefully chosen by the juries of selection of the Women Painters and of the Art Institute.

The jury of awards was composed of Kenneth Ross, Henry McFee and Gaylord Richmond.

A FRIEND IN NEED DEED!

IS YOUR DENTIST just a "friend in need"? Chances are that you are one of the 74 out of 100 people who visit their Dentist only when they are in "need" and suffering pain!

Only 26 per cent of our population go to their Dentists for periodic examinations, even though the field of Dentistry has expanded far beyond the mere filling and extraction of decayed teeth.

Remember, your Dentist is an oral physician as well as an oral surgeon. His advice and prescriptions should take the form of prevention as well as the alleviation of pain. Take stock of his advice, for, even though his profession is concerned primarily with disorders of the mouth, your Dentist is also in a position to discover the symptoms connected with many medical disorders!

By visiting your Dentist at least twice a year and heeding his advice, you will prevent the pain and discomfort that neglect of your teeth will cause you.

Bring your Dentist's prescriptions to your Rexall Druggist who will compound them accurately and safely. Your Rexall Drug Store is completely stocked with the dentifrices, mouthwashes, toothbrushes, and denture adhesives and cleansers essential to your mouth hygiene.

40 YEARS AGO
June 25, 1909.

N. W. Tarr left Wednesday evening on a business trip to Arizona. Laurel Steinberger and Earl Smith are spending the week fishing along the tumbling waters of the West Fork of the San Gabriel.

A. D. Hawks made his appearance on the street Wednesday after a week of confinement during which he nursed some bad bruises. His injuries were sustained in a fall down a dozen or more steps at the residence of his sister, Miss Frances Hawks. Miss Elsie Caskey entertained fifteen young ladies Tuesday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Lucile Larkey and Miss Eddie Hunter.

25 YEARS AGO
June 27, 1924.

President H. E. Allen of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank and Mrs. Allen are enjoying an outing in Yosemite Valley. They are expected home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Farman returned home Friday night, having motored to Seattle in the course of a 10-day vacation. The trip was not advertised as a race, but they said the going was so good they just kept to the road rather than stop for any length of time in any one place.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Jones returned home Monday morning after spending a week in Yosemite Valley and among the big trees. No vocabulary can do justice to the valley, in the opinion of the colonel. He says it exceeds expectations in spite of the boosts of press agents and previous visitors. He came away with a strong determination to return for further acquaintance.

The July meeting of the Bethany Church Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. F. D. R. Moore, 689 West Central, Tuesday, July 1, at 2:30.

15 YEARS AGO
June 29, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Elmore of Pasadena entertained their bridge club on Saturday evening in honor of their crystal wedding anniversary. Among the guests present were Miss Clara Sykes, Miss Thyrza Golden, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Laura Cline, of Sierra Madre.

The modern Priscillas enjoyed a picnic at Griffith Park on Thursday, the event closing the meetings of the society for the season.

Miss Marian Daily, 105 East Central avenue, entertained 40 guests at a treasure hunt on Tuesday evening. The last clue took them to the home of Milton Hollingsworth, where a dance was held in honor of Miss Frances Olds, who celebrated her birthday.

The first summer social of the Congregational League was held at the home of Miss Ruth Wheeler, 101 East Central avenue, on Monday. The young people made plans for the summer. They discussed ways to enlarge their big Pines' Camp fund and planned to have a meeting every other Tuesday night during the summer.

LETTER TO EDITOR...

The Sierra Madre News,
Sierra Madre, California

At the last meeting of the Sierra Madre Lions, the entire Club, man by man, stood on his feet and praised your Pioneer Day issue of the News as the finest contribution made by anyone to our 1949 celebration. You and your entire organization are to be congratulated for the effort put into it and you may well be proud of the results.

It is the Lions intentions to make Pioneer Days a real celebration, more of the Pioneer spirit and less of the carnival, etc. If we could persuade the citizens, merchants and even the Lions to put the effort toward the above goal mentioned that you have made, we would soon have a celebration second to none. Again congratulations to you and your staff.

Yours truly,
MEL STINE, Secretary

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH IN LOS ANGELES SINCE V. J. DAY

{Note 1945 figures include only that portion of year after V. J. Day}

Increased capital investment

New jobs

THE PROPHETS OF DOOM have had to guess again since predicting the economic collapse of Los Angeles County—as illustrated by graph prepared by Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce industrial department which shows that between VJ Day and Jan. 1, 1949, private capital to extent of $411,133,486 was invested in expansion of existing industrial plants and in construction of new factories—which in turn created 78,849 jobs. The Chamber estimates industrial workers in the new jobs will earn $236,547,000 this year, which they will plough into the economy.

Rosary Recited for

Mrs. J. M. Wagner

Rosary was recited Tuesday night at 8 p. m. at Grant Chapel for Mrs. Josephine M. Wagner, 66, 158 East Grandview avenue, who passed away Sunday evening in a Pasadena hospital.

Services Saturday For C. R. Hopewell

Services were held Saturday in Los Angeles for Charles Rogers Hopewell, 256 Adams street, a resident of Sierra Madre for eight years.

Mr. Hopewell, 73, passed away at home last Tuesday (June 14), after a short illness. He had been an employee in the composing room of the Los Angeles Examiner for 37 years.

Born in Northumberland, Penn., he had lived in California for 40 years. Prior to moving to Sierra Madre, Mr. Hopewell resided in Los Angeles.

He was a Mason of Albion Lodge No. 26 of New York City, and for 50 years a member of Typographical Union No. 174 in Los Angeles.

Besides his wife, he is survived by Mrs. Hopewell's son, Marshall Ames of Sierra Madre, her daughter, Mrs. John Ames Hackett of Los Angeles, and two grandchildren, John Ames Hackett and Joyce Diane Hackett.

Funeral rites were conducted by Edward Brothers Colonial Mortuary in Los Angeles. The remains were cremated.

Rose Tournament Authorizes Two Additional Awards

Two new major Tournament of Roses trophies, ranking in importance with the sweepstakes and Grand Prize have been established for future Rose Parades, it was announced this week by President Drummond J. McCunn.

Acting upon the recommendation of the judging committee, Max Colwell, chairman, a Governor's Trophy and Mayor's Trophy were approved as the new awards. The Governor's Trophy will be presented to the float best characterizing the romance of California and the Mayor's Trophy for the best Pasadena entry.

Presentation of these awards to participants each year will be made by Governor of the State and Mayor of Pasadena.

The addition of the two new awards will bring the total of major awards to six. They are Sweepstakes, Grand, President's, Governor's, Mayor's and Theme. There are also first, second and third prizes in each class.

Princeton Honors

George Robertson

George D. Robertson, 590 Auburn avenue, was among the 666 students who were graduated from Princeton last week. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Robertson, and his sister traveled east to attend the ceremony.

Robertson, a member of the largest graduating class in the history of the university, plans to go on to the Harvard university medical school for further study toward his doctor's degree.

An audience of more than 3000 was in attendance at the rites held in the Commencement Amphitheater. It was the 202nd annual commencement celebration.

Leave on Cruise

If your mailman, lawyer, mechanic or psychiatrist disappears for several weeks, he's probably a member of the Naval reserve at sea on a training cruise.

Approximately 1000 Reservists from the Eleventh Naval district will sail for Honolulu Saturday, June 25 on the first of the Naval reserve cruises scheduled for this summer. Training received ashore at training centers will be put into practice aboard the destroyers USS Wedderburn, Uhlmann, and Twining during the three week cruise.

Reservists from all walks of life will report to their respective ships and within a matter of hours will drop civilian life to become sailors, man their stations, and take their destroyers to Honolulu.

Anghor, buried for five centuries in the jungle, was once a thriving and populous city and the capital of Cambodia, or French Indo-China, as it is known today. Its history, culture, art, and architecture will be discussed. The speaker is a resident of Sierra Madre.

The public is invited to the meeting, the last one of the Arts Guild until October, which begins at 8:30 p. m.

Friends learned of the betrothal at a young people's "sing" Sunday night at the Brooks home, 360 Mariposa. Guests were from the Baptist Tabernacle of Pasadena and the Bethany Church of Sierra Madre.

Miss Brooks is a teacher at the Pasadena Nursery School. Mr. Bell was in the Air Corps for six years and is now attending P.C.C. and working at Cal-Tech.

Internal Revenue Office Site Moves

The Pasadena Division office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, which has been located for a number of years at 59 N. Garfield avenue, Pasadena, will move to its new location at 115 S. W. C. T. U. MEETING

Boy Scouts Lower Age Limits

In an unprecedented move, the Boy Scouts of America has lowered the entrance age for its three programs of Cub Scouting and Senior Scouting, effective next September 1st, according to word just received by C. M. Linton, President of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. The decision was reached after a three years' exhaustive study during which opinions were obtained from experienced leaders as well as parents.

After Sept. 1, boys may become Cub Scouts at eight years of age instead of nine; Boy Scouts at eleven instead of twelve and Explorers at fourteen instead of fifteen years of age.

This change in ages, according to King Robey, Chairman of the Public Education and Relations Committee of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, is the most forward step taken by Scouting in many years.

The Program known as Senior Scouting now becomes "Exploring" with its scope broad enough to include land, sea and air activities as well as life exploration. Units specializing in seamanship or in aviation will be known as Explorer Ships or Explorer Squadrons, respectively.

In commenting on the lowering of ages in the Scouting Program, Tallman H. Trask, Scout Executive, calls attention to the fact that this will increase the number of boys who will wish to become Cub Scouts by 35%.

Edward A. Davey, chairman of the district committee, estimated that the change in age requirements would probably increase the number of area Boy Scouts by 60 per cent.

"Boys develop faster than they used to," he said. "This means that they are mature enough to join scouting programs at an earlier age."

Civic Square Dances Become Weekly Events

Several thousand square dance enthusiasts have been introduced to this ever increasing and popular recreational-social activity at the big Civic Square Dances which are now held each Thursday evening at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium in Pasadena.

Started as semi-monthly affairs, popular demand soon resulted in their becoming regular weekly functions.

"You can't tell who is having the most fun . . . the farmer, physician, truck driver, banker, secretary, housewife, lawyer, merchant or chief," stated "Skipper" Steimle, "for most of the dancers come in their best barnyard formal or tux (long gingham dresses or Levis) and everyone has the time of his life."

Mr. Steimle, instructor and "caller," is director of these dances at the Civic. The public is invited to attend.

Sunday evening, the 19th.

Commercial grower exhibits, single and three spike specimens, entries, basket and vase classes, and a splendid showing of beautiful artistic arrangements will tax the capacity of the spacious buildings of the Fannie E. Morrison Horticultural Center.

The directors of the exhibition do not hesitate to say that they fully expect this show to be the finest gladiolus exhibition ever held on the West Coast, and one of the best in the United States and Canada this year.

AUTO CLUB'S TRIP OF THE WEEK

San Diego Loop

Now is one of the best seasons of the year to take this leisurely jaunt along the southern portion of Southern California's famed seacoast. This particular tour is chock-full of interesting points, particularly for those who have time to explore thoroughly the numerous attractions within the colorful border city of San Diego.

1. San Juan Capistrano Mission and the town of San Juan are still redolent of the spirit of Old California. The mission (center photo), founded in 1776, is regarded as the most artistic structure among all the State's old mission buildings.

2. Carlsbad is noted for its healthful mineral springs. Look for the picturesque racetrack as you pass through beautiful Del Mar. Nearby Torrey Pines (top photo) is famous for its unique windswept trees, the only specimens of their kind in the nation.

3. The famed artists' colony of La Jolla is an entrancing seashore resort. Very interesting are its quaint caves, which the pounding sea has carved into the rocky cliffs, and the Scripps Institute of Oceanography aquarium where marine life of all descriptions may be found. Both places welcome visitors.

have played host to a city guest, an "old gent" who periodically comes up to Sierra Madre "to look at the mountains." He comes from Hawthorne.

The police know him now, so they radio to the Hawthorne police to have the "old gent's" daughter meet him at the P.E. bus. The cops on duty give the old boy a sandwich, put him on his bus and pay the fare.

GREAT GRANDMOTHER WAS HERE! And Cathy Snipes, 3, proudly displays her Death Valley '49er decal which signifies partnership in four-county Centennial organization which will stage pageant in November to honor the Manly-Jayhawk immigrant parties of 1949. Cathy's great grandmother was Martha Bennett who was just about Cathy's age when she came through Death Valley 100 years ago. Now Cathy and thousands of other Californians are becoming members of Death Valley '49ers through purchase of one dollar decals and membership cards, available at all offices of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

MAD High School Begins Classes In Summer Session

Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School began its Summer Session last Monday, June 20, when more than 250 students answered the school bell.

For the first time in the school's history, classes are now being offered free of all charges for students desiring summer work in history, mathematics, English, typing, band, Latin, and Spanish.

Coaching classes in reading are also being provided this summer for the first time. These courses are designed to present the fundamentals of reading on a high school level in order that students will increase in speed of reading as well as in comprehension.

Summer school classes will be in session daily from 8 a. m. to noon, June 20 through July 29.

Water Warning

With vacation season at hand, a warning against pollution of mountain streams and lakes has been issued by H. L. Messier, chief of the section of mountain and rural sanitation for the Los Angeles county health department.

Jean Key of Woodland Drive, left by Pan American Airlines Friday for Honolulu. She will join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Key, former Sierra Madreans.

Civil Service Offers Park Ranger Jobs

Examinations were announced this week by the U. S. Civil Service commission for filling positions of park ranger in the National Park service. Jobs to be filled are located throughout the United States, in Alaska, and Hawaii.

In order to qualify, applicants must pass a written test and have had three years of appropriate field experience. Pertinent education may be substituted for 2½ years of the required experience.

Beginning salary for park rangers is $2974 a year. Age limits are 21 to 35 years. Closing date for receipt of applications is July 21.

Sierra Madre Due For 'Extra Dividend'

Sierra Madre is scheduled to receive an "extra dividend" totalling $9176 for 1949-50 out-of-state collected motor vehicle "in lieu" taxes, California Taxpayers' association announced last week.

This is made possible because of a change in state law which was signed by the governor May 13. The new law provides that payments be made in December and June of each fiscal year, with the result that for the one year 1949-50 counties and cities will get a payment in July, 1949, together with payments in December, 1949, and June, 1950.
